

LANDSLIDE TO HARDING GREATEST IN HISTORY

man who has done so much for the upbuilding of the Pacific states.

In Oregon Senator Chamberlain was defeated, although he was of enormous benefit to his state and the Pacific states as well, and was also vigorously opposed to the policies of Pres. Wilson. It will be noted that democrats opposed and those favoring the presidential policies were ruthlessly trampled upon by the voters. Even our old friend Champ Clark had time called on him when his opponent, a fellow with the patronymic of Huk-reide, knocked him out.

the approval of the tariff commission, which heretofore has been quite friendly to the preservation of all war and necessary minerals.

Triumph Owed to Spiders.
In the early winter of 1794 General Pichegru became convinced of the utility of his campaign against Holland, which the Dutch burghers had flooded. He was about to retire when he received a message from his adjutant general, Joutremier d'Issonval, a famous naturalist, who was a prisoner of the Netherlands at Utrecht, informing him that the spiders had predicted a severe frost within ten days. Pichegru waited; the frost came and turned the floods to ice; the French army marched across it and captured Amsterdam. The soldier who had made friends with the spiders in his cell at Utrecht and had interpreted their behavior was rescued and borne back to Paris in triumph.

Safety and Sanity.
"We had a safe and sane Fourth of July, didn't we?" Inquired the aggressive person.
"I dunno," answered the diffident man. "After listening to some of the unsafe and insane oratory I heard, I would have been willing to compromise an ordinary fireworks."

Calculation.
"Don't worry about the police finding out about this prize fight. I've pulled off nine without their getting a clue."
"Yes, but you must remember ten mills make one cent."

LEG BROKEN WHILE WORKING IN SHAFT

David Greenberg suffered a broken leg early this week at the Cyclopic mine.

Greenberg was in the incline shaft, when the skip came along and caught his leg between the knee and the ankle, snapping it instantly. His partner, Frank Humphrey, set the bone, put it into splints, and started to Kingman with him, arriving here at 5 the following morning. When the doctor examined the break he found a perfect job of setting had been done, and it was not necessary to do the job over again.

Greenberg will be laid up for the next four weeks probably.

WILL HALLORAN TO BE MARRIED AT BERKELEY

Will Halloran superintendent of the Kingman Consolidated, left for San Francisco on some very serious business. It is understood that Mr. Halloran is going to take unto himself a wife.

The name of the bride is not known but the wedding will take place in Berkeley.

After the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Halloran will return to Kingman, about the 15th, and will make their home here.

"THE ELEPHANT TEA"

The Elephant Tea given by the Women's Republican League at Republican Headquarters Monday afternoon, was a most novel and interesting entertainment. All women regardless of party affiliations were invited and several prominent ones of the Democratic party accepted. A few gentlemen were present, having taken advantage of the opportunity to see how the women did things in politics. They were not disappointed for the room was crowded all the afternoon and there was something doing every minute.

Tea and Elephant cookies with Elephant napkins were served; Mrs. Armour explained the origin and meaning of the Elephant as the Republican Emblem; the President, Mrs. Lewis, read the poem of John G. Saxe on the Elephant and the Blind Men, and made appropriate comparisons between "those who will not see, and those who do see, the strong leading characteristics of the Republican Principles as exemplified by the Elephant."

Campaign songs were sung, and as one Southern Democratic lady observed, "These Republican women have the nerve even to appropriate our Southern melodies."

This entertainment shows that the women in politics, are wide awake, and dead in earnest, but withal, kindly, courteous and hospitable. It must be so, for Women are Women whatever their work may be.

400,000 POUNDS OF CLOTHES TO NEAR EAST

Almost four hundred thousand pounds of old clothing and shoes were part of the cargo of the steamer "Polar Bear" which sailed this week from New York for Constantinople with supplies sent out by the Near East Relief to aid sufferers in the Caucasus, Asia Minor and Syria.

Groceries, other food and eleven small auto trucks to help out the transportation problem arising from the chaotic condition of the railroads in the Near East, were also included in the cargo. Another shipload to be sent within the next few weeks will include a lot contributed by the state of Arizona which is to be forwarded to New York from the state headquarters of the Near Relief in Phoenix this week. In discussing the progress of the work, Charles F. Willis, state director of the organization, stated that another considerable quantity of old clothing is piling up at their office at 42 East Monroe St. bearing evidence to the generosity of the people of the state and their desire to aid the needy thousands in the Near East.

"The old clothes campaign is nation wide," said Mr. Willis, "the city of Pittsburgh alone has supplied almost enough garments to clothe the entire population of Erwan, capitol of Armenia. Erwan now contains approximately fifty thousand people, about half of whom are refugees. Practically all the clothing these people will have during the coming winter will be sent from this country, so that it is particularly gratifying to note the response Arizonans are making to this appeal for old clothes."

Hope Springs Eternal
"Cheer up," genially yelled his host to the stricken Murphy, who was beginning to regret keenly ever having come on the fishing trip. "Seasickness never killed anybody yet."
"Is that so," replied Murphy. "I'm sorry to hear ye say that. Sure, the hope of dyin' soon was the only thing that was keepin' me alive."

ASSESSMENT WORK

Ed Frankfurter and Joe Martinez expect to go to the School Marm mine, in the Chemehuevis mountains, next week, where they will do assessment work and take out a shipment of ore. The last shipment from the mine ran well up in gold and the streak was said to be of good width.

Peculiar Case Reversed

A peculiar case was decided in the federal court at San Francisco last week, in which Mrs. Jesus Maria Ochoa was defeated in an action brought by her against the New Cornelia, which action was brought to recover damage for the accidental killing of her husband, who had been an employee of the company. The facts in the case, as stated in the action was that in November, 1918, a number of Mexican employees of the New Cornelia company were awaiting the hour to go to work. Being a cold day the men built a fire against an old boiler belonging to the company, which was lying near the mine and which had been unused for many months. The boiler contained a quantity of dynamite that was supposed to have been cached by a thief, and as the fire grew hotter the powder exploded and Ochoa was killed and several others badly injured.

The court held that the company could not be held responsible under the law, as they were not at the time in the employ of the company and the accident was not due to the negligence of the company. The lower court had awarded the widow $10,000 damage.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL STARTS WEEK MONDAY

BEALE SPRINGS HOUSE BURNED TO GROUND

Early Tuesday morning the Beale Springs house belonging to the Kingman Water Company, was burned to the ground. The cause of the fire is not known, but it is thought that someone set the buildings on fire. The Sheriff's office has not been able to find any clue that would lead to the identification of the fire-bug.

INITIATE TWO

Last night Kingman Lodge 468, B. P. O. E. initiated R. M. Pincetl, for Santa Fe Lodge 460, and Jean Pocock into membership in the Kingman lodge. After the initiation a "cafe-teria banquet" was served, consisting of hot tamales and coffee.

MEXICAN SILVERS HARD PRESSED

While Mexican silver mines were operated when the white metal had gone to less than 50 cents per ounce and some of them made money, the enormous advance in the cost of living and the higher wage demands coupled with the depreciation of silver in the world's markets is tending to curtail the production of the metal in our sister republic. The only saving feature of the silver situation in Mexico is the opening of the mints to coinage of the metal and if aid is extended by the American manufacturers of goods the United States will be able to take large advantage of the situation. Mexico is now a large buyer in the Orient of goods that might be furnished by the American manufacturer if some concessions were made along a silver basis. China and Japan want the silver and Mexico wants the goods, so the exchange is made, advantageous to the three nations.

The Mexican government has decided to aid the mines in every way possible, but the attitude of the world to the white metal makes it impossible for any one country to bring about prosperity without the positive aid of all the others. Roads are to be built into the mining camps and other assistance in the marketing of ores is to be given.

KINGMAN NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

That Kingman is badly in need of new school buildings is in evidence, the trustees having to rent a small building to properly house the little ones. At the same time the present public school building is situated in a dangerous part of the town, being on a busy street, where the kiddies are exposed to fast moving vehicles at all hours of the day. A few years ago this paper suggested the purchase of the Richards Addition, where adequate public and high school buildings could be erected, a splendid campus laid out and where proper facilities could be had for play grounds for all grades of children. This proposition was turned down, although the 30 acres of land could be had for $4,000. No more beautiful site could be found in the county than this place for a public school ground and we regret that it was not taken advantage of.

The main building of the public school was found inadequate several years ago, and a new building was erected to take care of the overflow classes, and now another shack has to be taken in to properly seat a large number of children that could not be properly cared for in the main building. The immediate attention of the people of the town who have the interests of the children at heart is called to this grave condition. And at best the old school house is improperly heated, lighted and ventilated and should be condemned.
